DETAILED ACTION

Status of the Claims

Applicants have cancel all previous claims and introduced new claims 258-345. In view of the large number of variations on the core invention from new dependent claims to certain excipients, various pharmaceutical forms, and the combinations of various enhancers, the following election requirement of certain claimed species is presented below.

This requirement is made in addition to the requirement mailed on March 18, 2005, wherein Applicants have already elected the drug LMWH, and sodium caprate as the enhancer in the reply filed on April 18, 2005.

Election/Restrictions

Claims 258, 302, 334 and 340 are generic to the following disclosed patentably distinct species:

- A. whether or not the composition has an enteric coating – Applicants are required to elect whether or not their dosage form has an enteric coating, and if so, the chemical composition of the coating (e.g., claim 259).
- B. the number and chemical composition of absorption enhancers – Applicants are required to elect how many enhancers are in the formulation, and if there are any additional enhancers to sodium caprate, which enhancers are being elected;
- C. a single combination of excipients – Applicants are required to elect a single combination of excipients (e.g., rate-controlling polymeric materials, diluents, lubricants, etc.), and specify the particular excipients by appropriate chemical names (e.g., microcrystalline cellulose for the inert filler as in claim 293);
- D. the type of formulation release – Applicants are required to elect a single formulation release, such as, instant-release (e.g., claim 283), sustained release (e.g., claim 280);
- E. the form of the formulation – Applicants are required to elect a single physical for of the pharmaceutical formulation, e.g., a multiparticulate table as in claim 286, or an enteric coated capsule as in claim 261.

The species are independent or distinct because as disclosed the different species have mutually exclusive characteristics for each identified species. In addition, these species are not obvious variants of each other based on the current record.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. § 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

There is an examination and search burden for these patentably distinct species due to their mutually exclusive characteristics. The species require a different field of search (e.g., searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries); and/or the prior art applicable to one species would not likely be applicable to another species; and/or the species are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. § 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR § 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

The election of the species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the election of species requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR § 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the species unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) of the other species.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR § 1.141.

Time for Reply

Applicant is reminded that 1-month (not less than 30 days) shortened statutory period will be set for reply when a written requirement is made without an action on the merits. This period may be extended under the provisions of 37 CFR § 1.136(a). Such action will not be an "action on the merits" for purposes of the second action final program. M.P.E.P. § 809.02(a).

Correction of Inventorship

Applicants are reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR § 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR § 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR § 1.17(i).

Conclusions

If Applicants should amend the claims, a complete and responsive reply will clearly identify where support can be found in the disclosure for each amendment. Applicants should point to the page and line numbers of the application corresponding to each amendment, and provide any statements that might help to identify support for the claimed invention (e.g., if the amendment is not supported in ipso verbis, clarification on the record may be helpful). Should Applicants present new claims, Applicants should clearly identify where support can be found in the disclosure.
